Telling the Story: Changing My Life – Andrew Dewey, Springfield

Born on a farm in central Illinois, Andrew Dewey was an extremely successful businessman for over 20 years. Upon moving to New Orleans and having Hurricane Katrina destroy everything, FEMA relocated him and his family to Jacksonville, IL. Once there, he struggled to find work and later, he and his wife divorced. Alone and hopeless, his downward spiral was exacerbated by a back injury. Prescribed 90 hydrocodones per month, both his back and mental pain were alleviated, but when the prescribing doctor went out of business, he turned to heroin. In this session, Andrew recalls his journey from rock bottom to recovery.

PRESENTER INFORMATION

Nirav D. Shah, M.D., J.D., was appointed as Director of the Illinois Department of Public Health in January 2015. As an attorney and former public health economist, Director Shah has advised professionals around the nation and world about cost-effective health systems and methods to enhance the delivery of efficient healthcare in policy and practice. A native Chicagoan, Director Shah received both his medical and law degrees from the University of Chicago. Director Shah lived and worked in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, as the Chief Economist for the Ministry of Health of Cambodia, where he focused on issues related to public health system efficiency. He also served as an epidemiologist for the Ministry, investigating and managing disease outbreaks across Cambodia. Director Shah also spent several years as an attorney at the renowned law firm, Sidley Austin LLP, where he focused on the administrative and legal aspects of healthcare and public health.

As one of the nation's leading experts on addiction, Dr. Omar Manejwala offers insight and analysis on new developments related to addiction and mental health. He has spent his career studying and innovating in the fields of psychiatry and addiction. He graduated from the University of Maryland School of Medicine, and was the Executive Chief Resident in Psychiatry at Duke. He is a fellow of the American Psychiatric Association and a diplomat of the American Board of Addiction Medicine. He served as the Medical Director for Hazelden Foundation, one of the nation's oldest and largest addiction centers. While there, he developed and launched a treatment program for healthcare professionals, treating over 350 clients in just 18 months. He was also able to drive large improvements in benchmarked patient satisfaction metrics.

Amy Daum, MA, LPC, NCC, CADC, CSAT is the Lead Counselor for the UnityPoint Health Illinois Institute for Addiction Recovery, Springfield, IL. Amy received her Master's degree in Clinical Mental Health Counseling from Bradley University in August of 2014, is a Licensed Professional Counselor, National Certified Counselor, Certified Alcohol and Drug Counselor and Certified Sex Addiction Therapist. Amy has been with IAR for four years. Amy has experience providing individual counseling, group counseling, group psychoeducation and working with families in both inpatient and outpatient settings.

Cinda Edwards, President, Illinois Coroner's Association, has been the Sangamon County Coroner since June 2011. Prior to becoming coroner, she was a Registered Nurse and the Clinical Director of Priority Care. She has experience with administrative duties involving the daily clinical activities along with administering care to patients with a variety of illnesses and injuries, both chronic and acute. While the majority of her 32 years as a practicing Registered Nurse was spent at Priority Care, she also worked at St. John's Hospital in the Emergency Room and Memorial Medical Center in the Neurosurgical Unit. She is also a member of the Sangamon County Opioid Task Force.

Ada Bair, RN, BSN, MHA, licensed nursing home administrator, and Chief Executive Officer for Memorial Hospital and Hancock County Senior Services, Carthage, is a proven leader and dedicated healthcare professional focused on identifying and delivering innovative solutions that communities need. Known for being service oriented and community driven, she has led many teams in their efforts to deliver sustainable, non-profit holistic healthcare. She is responsible for an 18-bed critical access hospital, seven clinics, a 42-apartment supportive living facility, two memory care houses, home health agency and joint venture for physical therapy and occupational therapy.

Kourtayne Sturgeon is the director of education at Overdose Lifeline, Inc. an Indiana nonprofit dedicated to helping individuals, families, and communities affected by the disease of addiction / substance use disorder through advocacy, education, harm reduction, prevention, resources, and support. The organization has been on the front-lines of the opioid epidemic since 2014 designing and deploying programs and initiatives and serving as a statewide non-governmental subject matter expert addressing the opioid public health crisis. Kourtayne worked for 20 years for a leading global education company and joined Overdose Lifeline in 2015 helping to develop a youth opioid education program which has reached more than 24,000 Indiana students and is being used by more than 190 delivery partners in 16 states.

Adam Kohlrus, B.S., M.S., CPHQ, CPPS, is the Assistant Vice President of Quality, Safety, and Health Policy for the Illinois Health and Hospital Association's Institute for Innovations in Care and Quality. Adam is a key contributor in the development of strategies towards achieving the Quadruple Aim in hospitals across the state. He is working to identify, augment, and implement transformative strategies to improve patient care, optimize engagement, transitions, and outcomes across the continuum, including innovative approaches for quality/patient safety, population health, policy and fostering high performing teams and workplace environments. Adam is based in the IHA Springfield office and works closely with the Small and Rural Hospital Constituency in Illinois. He received his Bachelors of Science in Social Psychology at Loyola University with a minor in Peace Studies and a Master's of Science in Health Sciences with a concentration in Public Health at Western Illinois University. Prior to joining the IHA Institute, Adam served in the Peace Corps as a community health volunteer in both Swaziland, Africa and Guyana, South America before working at Peace Corps headquarters in Washington DC.

This project is supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) under grant H54RH00019, Rural Hospital Flexibility Program.

Paul Bonucci, MD, MBA, has been an authorized buprenorphine prescriber and treating physician to opiate-dependent patients since 2013. Dr. Bonucci earned his MD degree at Northwestern University and has an MBA from the University of Chicago. He completed his residency at Cook County Hospital and is board certified in Emergency Medicine. In addition to serving as the Emergency Department Medical Director at Illinois Valley Community Hospital in Peru since 2009, he also founded an Urgent Care Center in Princeton in 2011, which was acquired by Perry Memorial Hospital in 2016.
